Bring your portable recording system with you to your department, car, forest, or another training site where the permanently installed system cannot be utilized.

Nordic RecMobile is a portable recording system in a handy, wheeled protective bag for recording simulation exercises anywhere. Nordic RecMobile is one of Nordic Simulators' recorder product family, which is controlled by the easy-to-use Nordic Recorder software. Three separate cameras with magnetic fastening are included. The software has no annual licensing fees.

The product has been developed in collaboration with professionals in the simulation world, resulting in a high-quality, very easy-to-use and versatile system. Nordic RecMobile can be set up for use in 10 minutes.

Nordic RecMobile uses high-quality, wireless HD digital cameras with built-in microphones. The cameras have infrared lights, so that the system can record in the dark if needed. Night videography can be used, for example, when practicing for special conditions in military field medicine or during power outages.

The fully wireless Nordic RecMobile also runs on battery power, making it completely mobile. With magnetic attachments, the cameras and batteries can be quickly attached to different locations.
