Model for demonstrating and practicing specimen collection in the nasopharynx, e.g. for a Covid 19 rapid test.

Due to the convoluted structure of the nasal cavity, an understanding of the structures and some practices are required to obtain a meaningful swab that does not unnecessarily stress the test person.

Features

- Training model for specimen collection from the nasopharynx
- Realistic anatomical structures
- Soft, yielding material
- delivery in transport box

- developed and manufactured in Germany

Advantages

- Seeing means understanding
- Practice of the correct insertion position
- Guarantee of a meaningful test by using the right technique in the right place
- Reduction of stress for the subject (patient)
- Safety for the examiner
