Batohy

More than a backpack, Command is a transversal system dedicated to fire brigades that can be used as a bag, a backpack or a suspendable holder.

Basically it is a rectangular shaped holder in Cordura or Spentex®, with a framework in aluminium.

Its versatility is also due to the two lateral, easily detached containers that can be zipped together thus offering the possibility of several compositions.

The central part is characterized by its security cover predisposed to carry an oxygen tank and other heavy accessories that must be protected also on extreme missions.

Today one also chooses a backpack for its modularity, security and manageability, in other words for its versatility and ease of use. Space for the backpack for all situations: rescue, transport, recovery.

Space for protection, stability, dynamics. Space for space!
